Andre Dubuc and Florence Lafevre look over a mock-up display done under the guidance of Ian Patterson of the Provincial Museum.

Museum volunteers attend workshop

A work-shop was conducted Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings of last week by Ian Patterson, liaison officer Provincial Museum and Archives, Edmonton.

Attended by six members of the Lacombe Museum committee, the program, punctuated by slides, was a crash course on techniques used in setting up displays.

Attending the seminar were Arlene Borgstede, Rita Clark, Ruth Horne, Florence Lafevre, Bill Learning and Andre Dubuc.

Spruce up the place Clear out the corners It's Clean-up Time!

This is the week proclaimed by Mayor R. M. Gibbon as Town Clean-Up Week in St. Albert. Citizens are urged to take stock of their premises, clearing out unneeded articles, pop bottles, paper and trash.

The Breakfast Lions and the Cubs and Scouts of the 4th and 5th Groups will be out in force this Saturday morning (May 8) on the west side of the highway (Grandin and Mission districts). Next Saturday, (May 15) they will be on the east side of the highway (Sturgeon and Braeside), picking up unneeded articles, pop bottles and paper.

Weather permitting, citizens are asked to place these items on their front lawns on the appropriate morning. If this is not possible, the Lions boys will gladly come in and pick them up.

Business establishments are asked to participate by clearing their stock rooms and storage corners of unsaleable merchandise. A pick-up crew will come by.

Suggested articles looked for by the Breakfast Lions include items such as — tools, lawn mowers, gardening tools, household utensils, appliances, small furniture, lamps, tricycles, skates, car tires, toys, skis, bicycles, suitcases, wardrobes, trunks, canning jars, baby furniture, dishes, books, knick-knacks, clothing etc.

Separate school tax up 2 mills

St. Albert Separate school supporters will be asked to dig a bit deeper into their purses this year. At last Wednesday's board meeting trustees adopted a $2,027,000 budget, an increase of two mills to ratepayers.

Gordon Miller, assistant to the superintendent termed the budget "somewhat restricted, very much a hold the line budget." He said if present conditions remain relatively unchanged no increase in the school requisition is anticipated for 1972.

There will be a slight increase in class loads in September, the budget allows for a pupil-teacher ratio averaging at 20 pupils per teacher. Present ratio is 19 to one. No severe cuts in the program are anticipated.

Chris McDonnell, secretary-treasurer St. Albert Public School district, said he expects their budget will be finalized in about two weeks.

Town council has not yet announced the municipal tax rate for this year.

Useless trash will be picked up by the town engineering department on their regular tours during the week. To ease the extra load anticipated, the department requests that citizens place trash on the boulevard on the morning of their regular pick-up.

University plan makes bold departures from standard practise

An academic concept for a "very different university" was described at a Tuesday morning press conference by the members of the Athabasca University Governing Authority.

Offering courses in arts, sciences and education, the university will be aimed at serving the remaining three decades of the 20th century, stressing the theme "Man and His Environment." Scheduled to open in 1973, enrollment is forecast as high as 10,000 by 1980. In the beginning it will not be residential, a questioner was advised.

A prepared statement says "the university will be made up of village-like modules and a central service centre containing full administrative, informational and technological facilities. Each module will be designed for 600 students, 40 academics, and five or six support staff. But students will be mobile, studying in other modules, and sometimes outside the university altogether."

A module is defined as a reasonably self contained educational unit, designed to serve a certain number of students. Enrolments should be small enough to avoid the remoteness of large institutions, yet large enough to gain some advantage from the economy of scale. A major advantage of the modular concept is its built-in capacity for orderly growth.

Questions from the press revealed that the university will work in close contact with high schools, to meet the real needs of students making the transition, and that it will move away from the "Academic Strait Jacket" towards a sense of self-awareness in students.

"Do you see this university as a school for retraining of people who enter such fields as education, industrial relations and social sciences, and find they require refresher courses?" asked the Gazette's Enrie Jamison. "Yes" replied Dr. Byrne, the concept of this university is ideally suited for updating education, as opposed to job retraining as is done under the federal government program.

Athabasca will offer "problem centered" education rather than "discipline centered" education, and will reach out into the community."

Education at Athabasca will be both moral and intellectual, both liberal and vocational, but it will aim at the development of generalists, not specialists. Its programs will cross the traditional boundaries of subjects as a general rule, not just an occasional one.

Anyone wishing to obtain a copy of the precls of academic concept may contact Mr. Richard Fowler of the governing authority in St. Albert at 599-6553.

*SPRING INVENTORY WEEK..This Is It!

On Friday, April 30 the St. Albert Majorettes entered the Northern Alberta Baton Competitions, held in the Sherwood Park Rec. Centre. The girls came up with two prizes and a trophy. They took second prize in large team competition and a third in small team competition. Groups from as far away as Fort MacMurray, Calgary and Saskatoon were entered. Each of the St. Albert girls received a medal.

M.D. Sturgeon Council Meeting

MD Sturgeon council heard the fourth public works report for 1971, as given by Mr. Stack at their April 15 meeting. Snow removal from October to March 22 cost the municipality $67,037 for the four divisions. Mr. Stack also reported on the condition of each piece of equipment in his department and on new equipment received. This was a Champion D600 and the dozer for the D7 was mounted and delivered. Still to be delivered is a Caterpillar Motor Grader 120 and the trucks.

PR chairman, Mr. Jack Harold reported on his committee's meeting with residents of the Lamoureux hamlet on connections to the NE waterline. Only four residents had attended the meeting, and the PR committee was of the opinion that these people should go back to the Hamlet and ask for support of others, so that the extension would be less expensive to each individual.

The fieldman was authorized to purchase a portable cattle squeeze at an approximate price of $526, and rental rate was set at $5 per day.

Mr. Van De Walle and fieldman submitted the Agricultural Service Board budget for 1971. The total of $77,274 is broken down as follows: cost to the municipality $28,563; Department of Agriculture grants $18,371 and refunds or repayments from farmers - $30,340.00.

Mr. Jack Harold submitted a proposed agreement for the organization of a Sturgeon Recreational Council, which would consist of representatives from the towns of Legal, Morinville, Gibbons, Bon Accord and possibly St. Albert. Council also accepted the resignation of Mr. Hugh Rigney from the Sturgeon Rec. Board for reason of his many other commitments.

Public works committee reported to council that Mr. Wier had been requested to put the N.S. Villeneuve road on a higher priority. This would be in accordance with the firm's rural road study, and Mr. Wier was requested to bring information to council on the matter.

Mr. Bauer, manager of Merlin Transport Ltd. had informed the public works committee that the price of oil for dust control on roads has increased for 1971, but trucking and spraying costs would be the same as in 1970. The quotation of the firm was filed as information.

Council will conduct a tour of municipal roads on May 7. A letter informed council that the government road grant for 1971 would be the same as in 1970, namely $77,950 based on a 75/25 basis. Superintendent was instructed to prepare a list of road grant locations to be available when the department engineer attends the next council meeting, so that articles of agreement may be signed.

Council to hire 4 students under government program

Council considered a request from the premier that they support the student employment, ecology corps program, and a staff recommendation that the town should not take advantage of this program this year. Counc. Wille felt strongly that the program should be supported, as did Counc. Russell, who said there were many places where such students could work.

"Staff was given very little time to make arrangements," said Councillor Hudson - "were they not going to investigate further and advise us again?" The mayor said that it had been ascertained that two students could be employed for general parkland clean-up this year. Mr. O'Connell said that the parks superintendent had been thinking of costs, and the wisest spending of his budget dollars.

Russell moved that council hire four ecology corps students. "I feel Mr. Beedle is in a better position to evaluate how many he can keep busy," said Hudson, "and I would suggest two." Since the government strongly advises we keep them busy at least a full month, and all summer if possible, we should not force four on him. "I am convinced he can find work," said Russell.

"I am aware of two suitable projects," said de Bruijn. "Foot walks through parkland must be hand labor and there is painting to be done in the arena. Budget restrictions should not be a brake on creative thinking," Counc. de Bruijn also warned that students are selected for the program by computer and "we could get girls swinging machetes in the bush." The motion carried 4-3, with Hudson, Gibbon and Kambourof opposed.

A resolution from committee on the Embassy Developments Agreement was discussed. The agreement would permit construction of local improvements on Churchill avenue from Glenhaven to a point 110 feet south of Gatewood. A letter received by Secretary O'Connell Monday indicated that neighboring developers were now being slowed because sanitary sewer is lacking. The resolution that council inform Embassy that the development will proceed in May and the town will expect a schedule and signing of formal documents in the near future carried 6-1 with Kambourof opposed.

Newcomers will hear Candidates

Nominated candidates for the forthcoming provincial election, and a representative from the NDP party, will speak to the Welcome Wagon Newcomers Club at their regular supper meeting Wednesday, May 3. Incumbent Keith Everitt for Social Credit, Progressive Conservative, Ernie Jamison, Liberal Robert Russell, and the NDP representative, not confirmed at press time, will each speak for 10 minutes. Afterwards members and their guests will have an opportunity to question the candidates in an open forum. The meeting begins at 6:30 at the Purple Dule. A good response is needed as election of officers will be held.

A special committee meeting will be held May 6 to inform council on negotiations with the new owners of Grandin Shoppers Park, Messrs. N. Witten and L. Kryger. The mayor and town solicitor are conducting the negotiations.

Finance and public works committee will consider a proposed new zoning and building bylaw at their meeting May 10.

Vote on a resolution by Lukay that parks and rec include provision for an outdoor comfort station at the pool be included in the 1971 budget estimates carried 4-3 with Gibbon, White and Kambourof opposed.

de Bruijn's resolution that council ask the department of highways to resurface the highway through town carried unanimously.

St. Albert fire department answered a call to the Grain elevators Sunday afternoon. The men quickly put out a grass fire, there was no damage to the buildings.

Trustees approve highschool plans

His first set of preliminary plans for the new Protestant high school severely criticized by the teaching staff and principal of Paul Kane High school at the April 14 meeting, Jack Gardener, of Wood and Gardener, architects, has come up with an alternative design which was given approval in principle by the trustees at the April 28 board meeting.

In the architect's absence Superintendent Elmer Gish presented the plan, re-designed from a two storey to a split-level concept. Mr. Gish, who was relatively pleased with the first plan, said he found this one "more interesting, a compromise to some of the objections voiced at the previous meeting."

While the home-ec area is not located on the ground level, as was suggested by John Hrynew, this department is now just half a flight up. The science area, too, has been re-designed with a variety of room sizes.

Mr. Hrynew agreed that the plan as presented at last Wednesday's meeting is a "vast improvement over the last plan." He added his staff has not yet seen it, but he would hope for a favorable reaction.

"The architect has been very receptive to our suggestions, and we appreciate this," Mr. Hrynew said.

A disadvantage of the revised plan was pointed out by Charles Schroder. The chairman drew attention to the fact that the building would take up more space, it being partially one and partially two storeys. Mr. Schroder said he found this new plan more appealing and the architect was advised to prepare working drawings.

Tendering and start of construction is dependent on the Forest-Lawn report. The school district can not obtain a building permit until this matter is finalized.

However, indications are that a settlement may be reached this summer, ending negotiations that have stretched over the last five years.

Housing Co-op

Over 300 members of the Sturgeon Valley Housing Co-operative have been involved in designing their own 500 plus units development slated for construction in St. Albert.

A design brief has been prepared for submission to architects as a result of the membership completing a specially designed 20 page questionnaire and attending two charettes.

As recently as a month ago, the co-operative began accepting share deposits, for residency, in a special trust account established with the Credit Union Federation of Alberta.

The trust account, supervised by the Co-operative Activities Branch of the Provincial Government, is another step towards realization of a project embracing a complete cross-section of peoples of varying economic levels, working together to plan, develop and control their housing development.

To illustrate the co-op members determination to achieve a co-operative embracing all levels of economic base, they have established a sponsorship fund to which individual members are contributing personally.

The co-operative which has been described as unique, exciting, innovative, and highly practical, considering the existing housing situation, does not intend to disband after completion of the units. Every resident is a member and owns a part of the total project through the shares acquired.

by Hugh Horner (PC)

Highway Myth Exploded

In the accompanying chart the figures are taken from the last five annual reports of the Department of Highways. There are many interesting figures in this chart.

1. In the past five years there has been 23 million dollars unexpended by this department, 17 million of it in the past two years. When the Social Credit government claims that they couldn't start, or didn't have any money to start, the Grid Road program, I merely point out that they had more money unexpended in the past two years than they are allocating this year to the Grid Road Program.

2. The number of miles of primary highway has only increased by 5.5 per cent even though motor vehicle registrations have gone up 25 per cent, fuel oil tax 81 per cent and license tax 43 per cent.

3. In 1970 there was 13 million dollars more additional revenue from fuel oil taxes and license plates than the total expenditures on highways. This includes the complete expenditure by the department, including grants to municipalities, towns, etc.

4. A highly interesting figure is the amount of money spent on main highway construction in the past five years. The figure is still at the same level as it was in 1966. When you consider that the value of money has been steadily decreasing, you can see that we haven't been getting the same amount of road construction done in Alberta.

During the past five years that highway spending has been held at minimal or nil increase. The total Alberta budget doubled from 600 million dollars to 1 billion, 200 million, or an increase of 100 per cent.

This surely should shake the myth of the performance by the Social Credit Government in highway construction over the past five years.

Marketing Bill

I have noted an article by Dr. Hugh Horner, MLA in a recent edition of your newspaper criticizing the government of Alberta's position on the federal government's National Products Marketing Bill C176.

To set the record straight, I would like to inform you that the Alberta government has taken a firm position on this Bill since its introduction a year ago as Bill C197.

Alberta's poultry producers as represented by all poultry marketing boards and poultry organizations, have been asking for national marketing legislation for sometime. For this reason the Hon. Henry Ruste, Alberta's Minister of Agriculture, along with all other ministers of agriculture in Canada, asked the federal government to prepare national marketing legislation back in 1968.

Following the introduction of Bill C197 into the House of Parliament a year ago, while Dr. Horner was sitting on the fence sniffing the winds of change, Mr. Ruste was meeting with federal officials, including the federal minister, to have changes made in the Bill.

Alberta's position was documented in a letter to Hon. H. A. Olson dated Sept. 17, 1970, with a copy to the chairman of the House of Commons agricultural committee.

The letter indicated agreement in principle to the federal Bill but asked for changes as follows:

A successful Session

The Alberta Legislature prorogued on Tuesday after a 52 day long session. It has been a very successful few months work and very gratifying to those who worked so hard for the betterment of this province. Compulsory automobile insurance will become effective April 1, 1972, with a board set up to put a ceiling on rates that can be charged for the compulsory package. The age of majority was lowered to 18 which I believe meets with the approval of most citizens. Anti pollution legislation was introduced and wilderness areas were approved. Other provinces are now showing a great deal of interest in this Bill as it is another first for Alberta. Liquor laws have been liberalized and a ban on non-returnable containers has been introduced. The legislation was very meaningful for future development of the province.

May I congratulate Dr. Byrne on his appointment as president of the Athabasca University.

During the session I received considerable representation concerning Rural Electrification. I am pleased to outline a Statement of Policy by the Government of Alberta regarding Rural Electrification Associations made by Premier Harry Strom.

RURAL ELECTRIFICATION
Recent submissions by Uniform and the Union of Rural Electrification Associations have been given careful consideration by the Government and it has been decided to reaffirm the long standing policy whereby power utility companies will supply farm customers of Rural Electrification Associations with electric energy at cost. The governments also decided to endorse the concept of a central administrative agency with membership optional to each association.

To provide for the recognition and establishment of the proposed central agency and to set forth the terms and conditions on which the agency will function, the government will establish an advisory committee consisting of representatives from rural consumers to assist in preparing proposed legislation for consideration at the 1972 Session. This legislation will include provision for interim funding and formulas necessary to ensure that farm customers of Rural Electrification Associations will receive electrical energy "at cost."

Many thanks to the Cubs and Scouts and the little non-Cub, non-Brownies who turned out last Monday to help clean up the town. Unfortunately time did not permit completion of the job but some fine evening soon another clean up will be staged. Even though you may be past the "youth group" stage you are urged to turn out and help when the truck comes around.

Teachers Mr. Goulet from Bon Accord and Mr. McKenzie from La Zerte High, exchanged jobs for a few days recently.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brown of Bon Accord Trailer Park on the birth of a son.

Mrs. Don Bland was hostess on Wednesday, April 28 to the afternoon branch of the ACW. The next meeting will be held on May 26 at the home of Mrs. T. E. Fischbach.

A big pat on the back to Warren Everitt, 12 years, who out-jogged the joggers to arrive at home plate first of the 141 hairy souls who walked for sports on Saturday, May 1. Seventy-one walkers received certificates for completing the course. Special notice to our two pre-schoolers, Danny McKay and Ronnie Abramson who walked seven miles and to Gregory Uchacz, six years who completed the full 25 miles again this year. Congratulations and a great big thanks to all who walked, to those who organized and helped in other ways and a special one to all the generous sponsors who made the walk a great success.

We were lucky again this year to have the services of the Edmonton Mobile Radio Club who patrolled the route.

The Gun Club is flourishing with a grand total of 47 members, several of them have already qualified for their bronze pin.

A husband and wife, both in their 60's and retired, were shopping in the local supermarket. The wife stopped at the magazine stand, studied the display, pulled out a magazine and put it in her basket. A few moments later she returned to the stand and replaced the magazine. "Didn't you want to buy that?" the husband asked.

"Not now," she replied. "I was intrigued with that title, 'Sex in the 70's'. But then it dawned on me, they meant the 1970's."

Ramsay-Weiss vows at St. Josephs

St. Joseph's Cathedral in Edmonton was the scene of a lovely afternoon wedding Saturday, May 1 when Marilyn Ramsay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ramsay of Edmonton and Donald Weiss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Weiss of Morinville were united in marriage.

Given in marriage by her father and mother the bride wore an A-line gown of satin, featuring lily-point sleeves. Her chapel veil was trimmed with bridal lace to match her gown. She carried a cascade bouquet with a purple orchid surrounded with white stephanotis.

Mary Gareau, matron of honor and attendant Shirley Weiss, sister of the groom wore identical mauve maxi pant suits which flared open at the waist, trimmed with white lace.

Each carried white baskets with a garden variety of flowers. Patrice Ramsay, niece of the bride was flower girl. She was dressed identical to the bridesmaids Timothy Fuhr, nephew of the bride was ring bearer.

The groom was attended by Phillip Morris, best man and Paul Krauskopf was attendant. Ushers were Ken Saunders and Bernard Mounier.

Wedding music was played by Professor Creighton from the University of Alberta. A dinner for the immediate family and wedding party was held at the Baker Centre after the ceremony. The head-table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake.

Master of ceremonies was Gilbert Ramsay, brother of the bride and the toast to the bride was proposed by Bruce Fuhr, brother-in-law of the bride. A reception and dance was held for some 200 guests.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Ramsay chose a floor length pink voile gown trimmed with white with matching pink accessories. For her son's wedding Mrs.

Weiss chose a blue crimp-lene dress with white accessories. Both mothers wore identical corsages of white carnations and pink sweetheart roses.

For her going away ensemble the bride chose a cream colored pantsuit with pink accessories and a white orchid corsage with pink backing. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Weiss will reside in Edmonton.

Out of town guests were from Vancouver, Provost, Calgary and Swan Hills.

Regals Upset Saints

Shaky pitching and fielding errors by St. Albert Willowbrook Saints in the first two innings, allowed Northgate Shell Regals (formerly Oilpatch Oilers) to score seven runs and they went on to win 11-2. The first five or six Regals hammered the offerings of Saint starter Pete Jensen very hard as they scored three in the first and four more in the second.

Saints were playing without four or five regulars who no doubt would have helped coach Ed Howorko. Don Kootenay, with Alexander Braves last year, blasted a tremendous home run to right field with a man on base, for the Saints only runs.

Two of the Saints senior members, Arnold Bailey and Chester Cunningham looked to be in good shape, especially Bailey who is coming back from a serious spinal fusion operation last winter. The club can use this big fellow at first, and he can hit the long ball. Chester must have learned to say no to his wife's cooking as he is down to a trim 190. He is a leader in the infield and his bat produces well.

Lead-off batter and star third baseman Chester Cunningham started the St. Albert Willowbrook Saints off on the right foot last Saturday with a line drive into right field. Umpire Gord Sinclair and Saint's Louie Martineau look on.

Blake Millroy delivers a single into left field as the Pirates open the Little Canadian season with a 16-9 win over the Reds at Paul Kane diamond.

Work Program

In a memo to the Board of Trustees, St. Albert Protestant school district, J. H. McKinstry, head of the business education department at Paul Kane High school, outlined the proposed work experience program for St. Albert students.

Mr. McKinstry said he and Brian Kupech of St. Albert High have contacted owners and operators of businesses in the town regarding this program. Due to the limited size of the community it was felt that such a program should be a joint venture of the two school districts. Mr. McKinstry added that the idea was well received by the business people who have been contacted.

By implementing this program, Mr. McKinstry anticipates students may see more relevance for their school studies and expects the young people will gain an understanding of the importance of developing good working habits and learn about the organization of business and develop positive attitudes for getting along with people.

Mr. McKinstry said that from the response received to date, it will be possible to place upward of 20 students from the combined classes of the two high schools, and this would be arranged between those administering the program from each school. The trustees at their April 28 meeting gave approval to the plan and staff was instructed to look into added insurance coverage for the project.

Census '71:

On June 1, 1971, about 50,000 men and women will begin the complex but valuable task of taking the decennial Census of Canada.

Although the questions asked will be much the same as those in 1961, the 1971 census will involve the public in a do-it-yourself enumeration. Respondents will complete either a long or short questionnaire and mail it or have it picked up, depending on where they live. This self-enumeration method is designed to improve accuracy by combatting the problem of enumerator and respondent bias and by encouraging more careful answers.

Two out of every three householders will receive a short questionnaire containing 15 questions. The remaining one-third will be required to answer the same questions plus about 70 others. The cost of the 1971 census, incidentally, will be about $1.60 per capita.

GRUB DAY

Monday, May 3 was Grub Day at St. Albert High. Students and teachers dressed in their grubbliest clothes. The objective of the day was a general clean-up of the school and grounds.

Included in the day's activities were relay races in which each room was represented by two girls and two boys. The winning team received a gift voucher from the Klondike Inn. Rich Barry's team received a prize for dropping the most garbage. (They had to pick it up.)

Also included were four legged races. Teams were hand-picked and were composed of students and teachers. The team of Mr. Kamnitz, Lorna McRea and Laura Finkbeiner won the first race but lost out to Mrs. McMillan's team in the finals.

SWIMMING POOL:

The pool will open on May 22. Information about admission fees is contained in a separate advertisement in this issue. Scheduling will be similar to last year with special sessions for families, students and adults.

TENNIS:

The instructional classes sponsored by the Tennis Club in co-operation with the department of parks and recreation are filled to capacity and apologies are offered to those who could not be accommodated. Be-

Lions attend Training Conference

St. Albert Lions Clubs were well represented at the Annual Training Conference held for the incoming executives in District 37B and 37F of Lions International. The conference was held at the Park Hotel in Edmonton and some 150 Lions from 33 clubs, some as far away as St. Johns, B.C., were in attendance. The conference was held on the weekend of April 23 but it was not all work, as a get acquainted social was held in the evening at which Dr. Marshall of Kearney, Nebraska, a director with Lions International, was guest speaker.

Breakfast Lions attending

Included John Kaminski, Harmon Freshy, Jim Maguire, Stan Shottland, John Huberdeau, and Doc Cuts. Evening Lions were Bill Webber, Rock Holman, Glen Ward, Lawrie Turner, David Iseke, Ken Moore, and George Simpson. Old friends Case Koene of Sherwood Park, and Pat Patterson of Grande Prairie and formerly of St. Albert were also in attendance.

A highlight of the conference were elections for various district posts at which Rock Holman and John Huberdeau were elected Deputy District Governor and Zone Chairman respectively.

Dignity of all people: main concern of C.W.L.

By Bridget O'Kell

The Arch-Diocesan CWL convention this year was hosted by St. Francis Xavier council, Canrose. Held at the Lutheran College last weekend, the convention was attended by 314 members, including a six member delegation from St. Albert.

The mood of the sessions was definitely that of concern for the dignity of people. This was very much evident in three of the five resolutions submitted.

One dealt with senior citizens and resolved to petition the government to raise the basic income tax exemption level to $3,000 for single people and to $4,500 for married couples in the age bracket of over 65 years. It also resolved to petition the federal government to lower the pensionable age to 60 years for the non-working husband or wife whose spouse is receiving the Old Age Security Pension.

Another resolution asked that the two levels of government make greater use of women's volunteer organizations and that governments continue to give financial support to associations engaged in public interest and in fields of particular concern to women.

A third resolution asked the federal government to return the Young Offenders Act to the committee on Justice and Legal Affairs, for revision. The convention suggested the public in general study this Bill and submit briefs before it is brought before Parliament again.

These three resolutions were carried by the convention.

The reports from the Diocesan conveners showed a great amount of work done in all areas of community service, throughout the Arch Diocese. CWL members everywhere live up to their motto and commitment: For God and Canada.

Enjoying their cook-out last Sunday are these girls, who along with about 120 other guides, guiders and trainers held a camp training session at Camp Mio-we-ko-win. Photo by Vic Post.

Girls train at Camp Mio-we-ko-win

About 120 guides, guiders and trainers enjoyed Sunday's spring weather to the fullest, when they gathered at Camp Mio-we-ko-win, the girls' were kept busy pitching tents, building various types of fires, constructing wood gadgets for rugged out-door living and shared their camp knowledge with each other.

Eleven patrols were formed and each patrol participated in similar activities. The girls planned and cooked their meals and evening found the campers enjoying such fare as stew, chili, fried chicken, brown Betty, puddings and pies. All foods were cooked on site, including the pies.

Father J. Joly, OMI, joined the group in the afternoon to officiate at Mass for those who wished to attend.

The day, which began at 9 a.m. with setting up camp, ended with tents down and folded, gadgets taken down, fires out, turf replaced and the camp site cleaner than when found.

The St. Albert Division was pleased to welcome guides and guiders from Gibbons and Legal who joined in this day of outdoor activity.

Recreations Act explained at Namao meeting

Representatives of the different clubs and organizations in the Namao district met Monday night in the Namao school to hear two guest speakers.

Mr. Al McRoberts, the new area 6 consultant, and Mrs. Rae Gowers of the Culture, Youth and Recreation department of the Government of Alberta, spoke on the new Recreation Act, passed in 1968. The act was explained in great detail, and after all the questions were answered the people attending had a much better understanding of how the recreation act operates.

While the organizations in the Namao district were well represented at this meeting, they had not as yet formally elected recreation officers. Therefore it was decided to hold another meeting next Monday evening, May 10, for elected recreation representatives.

At this meeting a working committee will be set up to make a study of the recreation facilities that exist in Namao district, and to make suggestions to the MD Sturgeon Recreation Board as to how they can be improved and expanded, with an eye to future requirements.

Bob Russell, leader of the Alberta Liberal Party, addressed the social studies 30 class at Paul Kane High last week. Mr. Russell spoke on government in Alberta.

Sing-a-Night: people doing their thing extremely well

Everyone likes to do his or her own thing these days. One group of people who "did their thing" and did it extremely well are St. Albert High's Pitch and Spice singers who, under the direction of Reverend Father Duscheneau presented their Sing-a-Night last Friday and Sunday at the George Simpson Gym.

The group of 120 junior and senior high school students presented a two hour program which was enthusiastically received by appreciative audiences both evenings. The SPICE-Spreading Peace in Crowds Everywhere-group of junior high boys and girls started off the program; PITCH-People In The Crowd Har-monists-the senior singers, entertained in the latter half. Both groups combined for a rousing finale which was climaxed by moving versions of Canada the Beautiful and This Land Is Your Land, 120 young voices, obviously proud to be Canadians.

There were many highlights in the program and several outstanding soloists were featured.

Jane Borle sang two of her own compositions, Row Row Your Boat and Look at Every Day. Debbie Kremer and Colleen Sheehan were delightful in Morningtown Ride and Sing High-Sing Low They were joined by Ann Lacroix and Patricia Sheehan in Everything Is Beautiful... and everything is.

Mark Cunningham, John Lancaster and Dale St. Hillaire did a fine job singing Let It Be. Other junior soloists included Dianne Barry and Marie Blanche Curial with Lollipop Tree and the Belanger sisters, Annette, Jeannine, Louise and Pauline with their version of

The Three Bells.

Kathy Fechter, Cathy Holden, Helen LeBlanc and Maria Viveiros sang the popular Dominique. Father Duscheneau, not to be outdone by his young charges, sang I'm Forever Blowing Bubbles.

The second half of the program included such favorites as Come Together, Hey Jude, Aquarius, Let the Sun Shine In and Give Peace a Chance.

Put Your Hand in the Hand was sung by June Borle and Diane Sheehan was featured in Soyez Jeunes de Coeur and The World Is my Home Town. Both these girls have lovely voices and a spontaneous manner. Ray LeBlanc was featured on the banjo.

Buffy Saint Marie's Now the Buffalo is Gone was done very well by Diane Bokenfohr, Beverly Farina and Ray Huberdeau. Ray later led the B.A. Bay song. Sylvia LeBlanc and Jocelyn Durocher sang C'est L'air and Peter Byl led Stay on the Sunny Side, a fun thing, well done. Peter later teamed up with Father Duscheneau for the B.A. Constrictor song, a real crowd pleaser.

Other soloists included Valerie Durocher, Pat Lema

Carol Bokenfohr, and Denise Gravelle. Working behind the scenes on setting, sound and the very effective lighting were Dennis Dalphond, Julian Romanko, Bill Fowler and Keith Grant. To them, to the soloists, the fine young musicians and the hundred or so people whose names we cannot mention due to space limitations, Thank You for a lovely program!

Thank You

Our sincere thanks to the St. Albert Protestant Separate School Board Trustees, principals, vice-principals, office and school staff and all other personnel who work for the school board, for the farewell party given in our honor before Roy left for Edson.

Roy and Darlene White.

Council approves Radio Tower

Mr. G. Robinson met with town council Monday night to appeal his application for a 60-foot tower, a base station at 11 Gladstone. The tower would be in operation from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Mr. Robinson had the Department of Transport approval. Mr. Robinson had also submitted to council a letter signed by nine neighboring householders stating their agreement with the tower.

In reply to questions by Crs. Russell and Hudson, Mr. Robinson stated that the messenger business using the tower were being operated entirely out of Edmonton. Count Kambouroff pointed out that a permit is required for erecting a tower, and that the last time a tower was permitted council had diagrams and information in advance.

Council, de Bruijn asked if it was a proper tower from a commercial firm - similar to a taxicab tower, and was told it was. Count White said he didn't think Mr. Robinson realized he needed town approval when he had DOT permission. He asked if the tower would affect television sets, and Mr. Robinson said it would not. Count Kambouroff's motion that the permit be issued carried 4-3. Kambouroff further moved that the Board of Transport be requested to contact the town in future before issuing permits for towers. Council de Bruijn asked for an amendment stating that the letter to the board be directed to the Minister of Transport, with copy to copy to our MP. Motion as amended carried unanimously.

This is the season of Indecision for the youngster who worked at odd jobs to earn money for a gift for his girl friend and now realizes he has the exact amount needed for that catcher's mitt he's been wanting.

Student Exchange chocolate drive

This Thursday and Friday evenings the St. Albert student exchange group from St. Albert High and Paul Kane High will be selling chocolates in the town on a door-to-door drive.

Twenty-four students hope to travel to Quebec this summer, on the fourth St. Albert student exchange. The money raised will be used to help finance the trip. The chocolate drive was very successful last year and the young people hope residents will again be generous when they call later this week.

The chocolate coated almonds the students will be selling will make a great Mother's Day gift.

Response to the April 26 Cancer Blitz was just fantastic.

Bridget O'Kell, publicity chairman of the St. Albert council of the CWL, which group this year co-ordinated the appeal for funds, told the Gazette Monday that $2,619.66 was collected and funds have since been turned over to the Cancer Society.

to the editor

The biggest "Bike-a-Thon" "Blurb" was the very poor reporting in this week's issue. The bandmaster, several members of the St. Albert Lions Breakfast Club Band and majorettes were invited to start off the "Bike-a-thon" and arrived at 8 a.m. Both groups were in full dress uniform and performed extremely well, yet not one word was mentioned in The Gazette.

It was an insulting "Blurb" for this hard working group to have absolutely nothing mentioned on their performance. A photo or write-up should definitely have been published.

It's very nice to see our local dignitaries taking part, but really, don't we see them mentioned enough in your paper. The majority of participants in the "Bike-a-thon" were children, why didn't we see their photo getting "last minute pointers," or "completing the course."

Someone has obviously "blurred."

Mrs. Joan Maybee.

Everitt Replies

The Editor:

I should like to take this opportunity to deal with a number of issues raised by the Gazette. Almost the entire page five of the April 7 issue was used to give the present government "what for" as far as Bill 28 is concerned.

Bill 28 of course puts a ceiling on the total municipal grant at $30,000,000. While the protest from the municipalities has been substantial I must also say it was to be expected.

However one thing has happened for sure and that is that the amount for the first time has been highly publicized. It would be impossible for me to estimate the hundreds of people who have made this comment, "Keith, you mean the government of the province will give up to $30,000,000 to the municipalities with no strings attached?" And yet the article endeavored to give the impression that the government was niggardly and miserly toward local governments.

It is interesting to note that Mr. Ernie Jamison in his editorial "The Gazette Reflects" very carefully avoided mentioning the figure of 38 millions of dollars. I wonder why?

Keith Everitt.

12 Immediately following passage of a resolution by the newly elected Alberta Marketing Board

In January of this year Alberta's agriculture minister requested the House of Commons Standing Committee on Agriculture to hold a public hearing in Alberta so that the committee could hear first hand the position of Alberta groups and individuals on the Bill. At the time of making the request, Mr. Ruste stated his position had already been communicated to the committee so he would not appear. Not attempt was made by the committee to communicate with Mr. Ruste while they were in Alberta.

However, since the committee returned to Ottawa it was evident that the political pipeline began to open. It was a consequence Alberta's agriculture minister was requested to appear before the committee in Ottawa. Mr. Ruste answered the request without hesitation and once again stated Alberta's position on the Bill, this time in Ottawa.

In conclusion, Alberta's position on Bill C-75 has been a clear reflection of the wishes of Alberta producers.

The 29 member Morinville Drum and Bugle Band toured the Legislative Building recently, the guests of M.L.A. Keith Everitt. The youngsters attended a session of the legislature, enjoyed a lunch in the cafeteria and performed in the main rotunda. The Hon. Dr. J.W. Grant MacEwan happened by and stayed for the concert. Before returning home the group stopped for a dip in the Vic Composite pool. The children were accompanied by Jo Anderson, Yvette Teller, and Roland Tailleux.

Medical Clinic to open in Morinville

By Rose Martel

Mayor Art Stapleton made the following announcement last weekend. "With the retirement of Dr. Georges Clark last year, the town of Morinville was left without the vital services of a resident general practitioner in medicine. The Board of Trade in co-operation with town council have for the last six months endeavored to replace this lost service.

In approximately six weeks a well staffed medical clinic will be in operation in Morinville. Directed by Dr. F. M. Fairfield and Dr. E. N. Gramlich, this modern medical clinic will be established in the building formerly owned and operated by the Royal Bank. Extensive remodeling will start on May 3 to make this clinic a valuable contribution to the well being of the town and surrounding countryside. Five days a week service will be given with 24 hour emergency service, seven days a week. The people of this community I am sure will welcome this valuable service. In a personal interview with Dr. Fairfield he added that two more doctors will join their staff shortly. Both graduates of U of A medical school, and finishing post graduate work, Dr. William Ramer will join the clinic staff in July. Dr. Larry Read is expected to arrive in August.

Mr. Ruste did not ask for the exclusion of hogs from the legislation at that time because the Alberta Marketing Board and Unifarm had not requested exemption. Legal campaign tops objectives

With a total of $373.84, the Red Cross annual campaign has again exceeded its quota objective this year in Legal and district.

Mrs. Allan Keane, campaign chairman, commended the generosity of the people throughout the area, who consistently supported the work of the Red Cross. She also had warm praise for the 18 volunteer women who did an excellent job of canvassing.

Vimy News

By Jeanne Laplante

Earlier Sunday services were highlighted by 24 children making their first communion.

Recently hospitalized were Mrs. Julia Regimbald and Richard Huot.

Congratulations to Mrs. Mary Bernard, president of the local CWL and members who were the proud recipients of the Mgr. E. J. Rooney trophy for the most active parish in the St. Paul diocese. The convention at Cold Lake was attended by Mary Bernard, Alice Gagne, Helen Joly, Marlene Sabourin and Maggie Blanchette.

At a recent community league meeting elections were held and Germain Fortier was elected president, Roger Laplante secretary, Phil Fagan and Claude Huot as directors.

The "Family Life Night" held in Vimy gymnasium was very well attended and most interesting. The panel consisting of teen-agers proved there is still communication and understanding in family living.

Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Huot spent a week's holidays in Vancouver.

Expressions of sympathy are extended to the bereaved families of Ceelle Gagne, Mr. Adeodat Gingras and Mr. Oscar Chevlier who passed away recently.

Several elderly church members were being asked to what they attributed their longevity. "And why do you think God has permitted you to reach the age of 90?" one wealthy old lady was asked. Without hesitation she responded: "To test the patience of my relatives."

Mr. and Mrs. Donat L'Abbe accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Locke motored to Peace River to attend a cousin's wedding and also visited the Armand Provencal family.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Regimbald spent three days at Brooks visiting friends and acquaintances.

Winner of the Sports $50 raffle was Bill Bokenfohr.

More suggestions on Rapeseed production

Rapeseed is adapted to a wide variety of soils, but prefers medium textured (loams) soils with good fertility. Rape is not as drought resistant as cereals and therefore in the drier regions (Dr. Brown soils) should be grown on the fine textured (clay loams) soils. It will not compete with weeds as well as cereals in the early stages of growth.

Growers prefer to plant rapeseed on summerfallow because of fewer problems with weeds and volunteer grain, usually higher fertility and ease of seeding. Rape can be grown on cereal stubble provided the seedbed can be kept moist near the surface and seeding depth is controlled. Rape should not be grown on land which has had grown rape in the past three years because of the risk of soil borne diseases and insects. For good yields, rapeseed should be seeded early, preferably at about the time when wheat is seeded. Rapeseed should be followed with a cereal crop to add fibre and trash to the soil for protection against erosion.

SEEDBED: Preparation—The seedbed should be prepared so that it is firm, moist, level and well packed.

Cultivation operations in the spring should be shallow, yet effective to kill weed growth and conserve as much surface moisture as possible. On fallow, rapeseed growers cultivate, roll, weed and harrow in one operation. The first thing in the spring, the roll-weeder and harrow do a good job of packing. Then not more than a day before seeding they shallow cultivate, roll-weed and harrow to kill weed growth and firm the seedbed. On some soils, another harrowing or two may be desirable.

PLANTING: Rapeseed should be seeded to a depth of one inch (1"). Where necessary, seedling at 2-3 1/2" into moisture may be more desirable than into dry soil. Seeding with a press drill or double disk drill followed by a packer is desirable. Some farmers harrow up to three times after seeding where no packer was used.

The rate of seeding should be five to seven pounds per acre for the Polish type and four to six pounds per acre for the Argentine type. Seeding of these rates can be accomplished by, (1) using reduction gears on the seed-drill feeding mechanism, or (2) seeding with a grass seed attachment. Some farmers mix rapeseed with fertilizer and seed through the fertilizer attachment, however, the mixture is never left in the attachment for long, even overnight. Watch the germinating crop and re-seed small areas where necessary.

FERTILIZER USE AND APPLICATION: Rapeseed requires a good supply of plant nutrients for maximum production. Even soils with high fertility may require the addition of nitrogen and phosphorus and sometimes potassium and sulfur. A soil test is the best indicator of soil nutrient requirements. Where rapeseed is to be grown on fallow and soil test results are not available, nitrogen at five to 20 pounds and phosphorus at 15 to 20 pounds per acre should be applied. The higher rate of nitrogen is recommended where the fallow may have had volunteer grain or weeds growing on it, or the fallow season was cool and wet with little nitrogen being accumulated. On cereal stubble or sod breaking, nitrogen should be applied at 40 to 60 pounds per acre (120-180 lbs. 34-0-0 for example) with 15 to 20 pounds of phosphorus per acre.

Rapeseed is sensitive to fertilizer placed near the seed. Recommended method of application of fertilizer for rapeseed.

NITROGEN—Broadcast and work-in all nitrogen over 10 pounds nitrogen (N) per acre.

PHOSPHORUS—Drill in with the seed no more than 20 pounds phosphorus (P2O5) per acre.

HARVESTING: Proper harvesting of rapeseed is very important to reduce losses. Such items as time and method of swathing, combine cylinder and wind adjustments and storage are critical.

For further information on harvesting rapeseed see "Rapeseed-Canada's Cinderella Crop" published by the Rapeseed Association of Canada, available from your District Agriculturist.

Use of Sulfur Fertilizers

—Issued by the District Agriculturist.

The following information has been received from the Alberta Department of Agriculture's Soils Branch. This information is considered significant and further enquiries may be directed to the district agriculturist.

Recently concern has been expressed regarding the use of high rates of ammonium sulfate fertilizer (21-0-0). Due to the attractive price some farmers have been using this material to a greater extent as nitrogen fertilizer. Two problems may be associated with the use of high rates of ammonium sulfate fertilizer over extended periods:

1. Lowering of soil reaction (pH).

2. A decrease in forage and grain selenium levels.

Ammonium sulfate contains 21 per cent nitrogen as ammonium (NH₄) and 24 per cent sulfur as sulfate (SO₄). Nitrogen and sulfur are essential plant nutrients required by all crops. Approximately 10 times as much nitrogen is required by plants as sulfur. Therefore, if the nitrogen requirement is met with ammonium sulfate excess, sulfur will accumulate in the soil. About 600 to 1,000 lbs. of sulfur is required to lower the soil pH by one unit. Ammonium sulfate applied at 400 lbs. per acre for five years would add 500 lbs. per acre of sulfur which could reduce soil pH by almost one unit. However, if this nitrogen source was used only once or twice in five years little sulfur accumulation would occur. Therefore, ammonium sulfate can be considered as a good source of nitrogen and sulfur, but should not be applied at high rates (400-lbs. per acre) over an extended period.

Nutritional Muscular Dystrophy (NMD) is associated with a deficiency of selenium in livestock rations. Selenium is essential to animals but not to plants; therefore it occurs only incidentally in plant tissue. Soils which are low in selenium tend to produce crops which are low in selenium. Recent work at the research station at Lacombe and the soil and feed testing lab, indicate that sulfur containing fertilizers may depress the uptake of selenium in forages and grains.

Areas of Alberta where plant materials are deficient in selenium are not well defined. However, crops from some of the sulfur deficient areas are known to be deficient in selenium. Addition of sulfur fertilizers will benefit plant growth, but may induce a selenium deficiency in animals fed the resulting crops. This effect on selenium levels will only be of concern where the level in the plant was marginal for livestock before sulfur was applied. In such cases, a selenium deficiency could be induced where no problem had been experienced before.

Where soils are deficient in sulfur, farmers are advised to use a sulfur fertilizer to increase production of forage or grains. They should be advised however, that a selenium deficiency may result. Local veterinarians may be able to identify the incidence of NMD in the area and thus the possibility of inducing a selenium deficiency by applying sulfur. Supplemental selenium for livestock use can at present, only be administered by a practicing veterinarian.

A survey of selenium levels in livestock feeds will be conducted this summer by the soil and feed testing laboratory to help to define areas of potential NMD for livestock.

An Improved Magpie Trap

—Issued from the District Agriculturist's Office.

A circular magpie trap, tested by members of the Alberta department of agriculture, has given results which are unquestionably superior to those obtained with conventional magpie traps.

It has been reported that 5, 8, 9, 11 and 27 birds were trapped in five separate trap settings in February of 1970. These figures represent an 80 to 100 per cent reduction in magpie numbers in the immediate vicinity of the trap. Subsequent trials gave similar results.

The birds do not seem to become trap-shy after having been caught. Eight were released during one trial and recaptured the following day.

The circular trap takes only an hour or two to construct and costs in the neighborhood of $15. It is made of strong, lightweight knitted wire and is approximately four feet in diameter and 2 1/2 feet high. In contrast to conventional magpie traps, this one is completely portable, weighing less than 15 pounds.

The improved trapping efficiency of the circular trap, compared with conventional traps, is attributed to its circular design. A magpie landing anywhere on, or near, the trap simply follows the contour of the cage around until he arrives at the entrance. With a conventional square or rectangular magpie trap the birds usually walk back along the same side of the trap as they landed beside, rather than turn the corner. Hence, only those birds which land on the side with the entrance actually go in. All trials with the circular trap showed that the availability of food and the amount of snow on the ground has a very definite effect on the percentage of birds caught. Although magpies may be trapped all year round, the ideal time during the cold winter months when carcasses are less readily available and the birds require more food for survival. Trials carried out in October tended to reduce the magpie population in the area by only about 60 per cent.

The importance of using a draw-bait for several days before the trap is actually set cannot be stressed too strongly. Meat scraps, small dead animals, offal, large bones, fat or a frozen carcass all make good baits.

The procedure is as follows: when possible place the trap where the magpies congregate. Put the draw-bait fairly close to the trap so that the birds get used to it. Leave the two inclose proximity for a couple of days or until the birds accept the bait. Then put the trap over the bait and stake it down.

A small amount of bait should be placed in the entrance to the trap to entice the birds. Best results will be obtained if the trap has a weathered or "old" appearance because magpies are suspicious of shiny materials.
